PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Oct. 8.—George Foster, the big right hander of the Boston Red Sox, capped the climax of a great day when he drove a sharp single to right field, scoring Larry Gardner, and won the second game of the world series for Boston by a score of 2 to 1.

All afternoon the Boston pitcher had been holding the heavy hitting Quakers down and but three hits were garnered off his delivery, but Philadelphia secured the "break" of the game, and when the ninth inning began the score was one all. Then came the great event of the day for the visitors. Foster singled and won his own game, and Boston once more came into the limelight.

Early this morning a crowd gathered at the park, and hours before the game was called to a standstill were packed with ardent fans. Every available spot in the vast enclosure was filled, and 20,500 was the official attendance given out. Cavanagh warmed up several pitchers before the game, and picked George Foster for the lot. Moran decided to use Erskine Mayer against the home-pitched Hub team.

Thomas who pitched as the Boston backstop, and Burns was the choice of the catchers for the Quakers. The fans watched the Philadelphia bench closely, as it was rumored that Killifer would enter the game, but Moran decided that he did not take a chance on sending an injured man into the breach.

BLAME LIQUOR AND MOVIES FOR MUCH OF CRIME

"Rigid Censorship Should Be Put on Movies," Says Judge Ashford in Court

If the bench had been a pulpit, the attorneys and newspaper men a choir and the bystanders a congregation, Circuit Judge Ashford probably could not have delivered a better sermon on the evils of booze and certain classes of motion pictures than he did in his court room today.

John Barterbrook was clouted over the head and he should have felt sick. Three classes of motion pictures which depict the hair-raising adventures of "Dare Devil Dick" or "Richard the Robber" were branded as being among the causes of the many crimes which have been committed in Honolulu during the last year by young boys. Judge Ashford did not mince words in handling his subject. He spoke straight from the shoulder and drove his points home with vivid illustrations which, he declared, resulted from booze and certain classes of "movies."

"The keys to the penitentiary hang in every saloon, as I have declared before, and it is not hard to find them," remarked Judge Ashford. The judge did not jump up and bang his fist down on the bench as he made this statement. The words came quietly. Three young boys, one only 16 years old, who stood before the judge, hung their heads.

DISAPPOINTED IN LOVE, GIRL SEEKS DEATH

Drinks Carbon Bisulphide After Writing Note That Hints at Secret Attachment

Worry over some affair of the heart probably caused Helen Torres, a young and good looking Portuguese girl, to drink a large dose of carbon bisulphide at the home of Mrs. McVeagh on Beretania street near Victoria at 7:45 this morning. The attempt at suicide was not, however, successful, and the girl is now being cared for at Queen's Hospital, with the chances favorable for her ultimate recovery.

Early this morning Mrs. McVeagh heard a commotion in the room of Helen Torres, who works in the house as a maid, and when she ran into the room found the girl stretched upon her bed in convulsions. Upon the bed beside her was a note explaining the act. Mrs. McVeagh immediately telephoned to the police and Officer B. Shumore was rushed out to the house with the patrol. The girl was taken, still suffering severely from the poison, to Queen's hospital, where, under the care of Dr. J. T. Wayson, she slowly rallied, and it is now announced that there is little danger of serious results from the poisoning.

Scrawled on a rag of paper in a labored handwriting, without punctuation and full of misspelled words, the note found upon the bed beside the girl reads:—
"Dear Mrs. McVeagh,
"I was killing so bad about myself since I went out last night so I don't think I like to live long. Please call my dear sister and tell her about it. Phone 2958.
"Dear sister please call thieren (evidently the name of the man in the case) and tell him. 4350
"I am sorry but I can't live no long."
"HELEN TORRES.
"Please put it in the newspaper so the other friend know about my dead.
"My last good by."

Three trainmen were killed and four injured in the wreck of a Missouri Pacific passenger train near La Platte, Neb.

A recommendation that the pay of French soldiers be advanced from one cent to five cents a day as from July 1, 1915, will be made to the Chamber of Deputies by the army committee.

MEXICO CITY IS IN DARK AS TO COURSE OF WAR

Adachi, Former Minister From Japan, Says There is no Mail, Telegram or Train Service

People in the United States know more about what is happening in revolution-ridden Mexico than do residents of Mexico City, according to M. Adachi, former Japanese ambassador to Mexico, who is returning on the Chiyu Maru to Japan, in an effort to recover his health nearly wrecked by his stay in Mexico City.

"There is no mail, no telegram, no train service, to or from Mexico City at present," declared the Japanese diplomat. "One would have to be all-powerful and fly like an eagle over Mexico if he wanted to learn what is going on in the interior states today."
Because of the impossibility of keeping in touch with news events through Mexico, Mr. Adachi said he could not make any accurate guess as to what man would win in the present struggle and become a permanent president of the republic.

Mr. Adachi left Mexico 42 days ago. He had the greatest difficulty in reaching the east coast, to get a ship back to the states. Because of fighting between revolutionary factions, between Cordova and Vera Cruz, he was forced to return and go by a circuitous route, journeying via the Tehuantepec railway to the coast.

At Vera Cruz, through the courtesy of the commander of the Ward line steamer Mexico, he was taken aboard and made his way to Yucatan, thence to Cuba and to New York. Mr. Adachi stopped in Washington on his way to San Francisco and called on Baron Chinda, Japanese ambassador in the national capital.

While Ambassador Adachi was talking yesterday, the Anyo Maru was 300 yards away at anchor. This is the ship on which the ambassador journeyed from Japan to Mexico when he left to take the position he is now delighted to get away from.

PRESIDENT BACK OF REPEALING OF CLAUSE ON SUGAR

Late Last Month He Began to Give Careful Consideration to Tariff Question

SUPPORT OF REST OF CABINET SEEMS SURE

Retention of Duty Expected to Have Good Political Effect in "Sugar States"

(The following mailed news item from the Star-Bulletin's Washington correspondent covered a good prophesy of the announcement made by Secretary McAdoo on Wednesday afternoon, and culled extensively to this newspaper.)
By C. A. ALBERT.
(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 28.—President Wilson has taken up the question of retaining the present tariff duty on refined sugar. He is giving the subject serious and careful consideration. The problem is being discussed with all party leaders arriving in the city. He has not reached any conclusion, but all indications point to a recommendation that the operations of the Underwood-Simmons act, placing sugar on the free list after May 1, 1916, be nullified.

It is expected that the president will have the support of Secretary McAdoo and other cabinet ministers in any movement calculated to retain the duty on sugar, "for revenue only." This has been rendered necessary by the shortage in customs receipts caused by the European war and the additional expenditures which will become essential in arranging a better condition of preparedness for the nation in the event of trouble with a foreign power. It has been self-evident for months that further increases must be added to increase governmental funds.

In order that the president may be fully advised a commission of experts from the department of commerce is now investigating the sugar industry in Hawaii, Cuba and Porto Rico. The report of this body will be ready for use before Congress convenes in December.

In addition to other means of procuring information for the president, a compilation of the sugar imports

LORD-YOUNG CO. IS REORGANIZED BY NEW OWNERS

H. Hackfeld & Co. Acquire Controlling Stock Interests in Important Deal

Announcement was made today of a big business deal concerning which local business circles have been burning for several days. The Lord-Young Engineering Company, one of the big contracting firms of the territory and now engaged in much territorial and federal work, has been taken over by new owners, H. Hackfeld & Company being the controlling interests in the negotiations and final ownership.

The name of the firm will remain the same and E. J. Lord, its president, remains under the new arrangement, but otherwise there is a complete change in officers and directors.
At the Hackfeld offices announcement was made at noon that the old officers of the company have all resigned with the exception of Lord, who remains as president and becomes manager. James L. Young, manager and treasurer; Frank E. Thompson, vice-president, and A. A. Wilder, secretary, all of whom were directors, have resigned.

The newly elected officers are E. J. Lord, president and manager; George Rodiek, vice-president and a director; J. F. C. Hagens, secretary and a director; F. W. Klebahn, treasurer and a director, and A. Haneberg, auditor.
The stock of the Lord-Young Company and of F. E. Thompson has been turned over to Hackfeld & Company and the creditors, including Hackfeld & Company, are taking paid-up shares of stock for the debts, so that the new concern starts without any indebtedness whatever. A few creditors who did not care to take stock were arranged with by a cash settlement. The arrangements, of course, do not include open accounts on running operation and contracts, which will all be taken care of.

Under its new management, the firm will carry along its existing contracts, which are large and important, and the contract for the $285,000 territorial wharf job, recently won in competitive bidding, will be signed up on Monday.

BREACH OF NEUTRALITY IS ALLEGED WHEN ANGLO-FRENCH EXPEDITION LANDED; WEST FRONT SEES VIOLENT ATTACKS BY GERMANS

CARRANZA LIKELY TO BE RECOGNIZED SOON

"First Chief" Venustiano Carranza.

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 9.—With the announcement today of the end of the fourth of the pan-American conferences, it is generally believed here that it is the intention of the conference to recommend the recognition of Carranza and that possibly the United States may give the "first chief" its recognition.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 9.—Latin-American diplomats representing the countries which have participated in the pan-American conference on Mexican affairs are meeting today with Secretary of State Lansing and it is believed that they will reach a definite decision and make this their last conference.

EL PASO, Texas, Oct. 9.—Government created by a coalition cabinet composed of the representatives of all the Mexican factions which have played any important part in the affairs of the republic for some years past has been proposed by Gen. Francisco Villa as an alternative plan to recognition of Gen. Carranza at this time. Gen. Villa says that recognition of Carranza will not produce peace in Mexico as he and his adherents will fight such a plan to the finish.

Gen. Villa proposes that government officers be named from all leading factions. He thinks the president should be picked at a joint conference of Carranza and Villa representatives, and that the president should not be biased for or against any faction.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 9.—Alberto Garcia Granados, minister of the interior in the Mexican cabinet, was executed today in Mexico City, according to advice to the state department. He was tried and found guilty of complicity in the killing of the late President Francisco Madero, says the advice.

'RED' FLEET IS WINNER IN RAID AGAINST 'BLUES'

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 9.—As the climax to a big and stirring naval war game played by U. S. vessels off the eastern coast, Admiral Frank Fletcher's "Blue" fleet, which for a week has been defending the coast, has been defeated by the attacking "Red" fleet under Admiral Austin Knight. Secretary Daniels today announced the result of the maneuvers.

The attacking fleet forced the entrance to Delaware bay last night. They had until October 15 to accomplish this under the terms of the problem given the admirals.

ARIZONA STRIKERS
AWAITING CONFERENCE

PHOENIX, Arizona, Oct. 9.—The strike situation is much quieter today, the prospect of a conference between the governor and labor officials being a factor in stilling the disorders.

Teuton Forces Cutting Path Through Serbia and Establishing Strong Footholds—Eastern Line Shows Little Change

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)

LONDON, England, Oct. 9.—Indications that Bulgaria intends to make a strong diplomatic point of the landing of soldiers of the Allies on Greek soil while Greece was ostensibly maintaining neutrality were heightened today when Bulgaria, through the ambassador at Athens, formally lodged vigorous representations with the Greek government. Bulgaria declared that the landing of the Anglo-French troops at Saloniki and their march inland have upset the Balkan status quo and imperiled friendly relations between Greece and her neighbors.

BERLIN, Germany, via London, Oct. 9.—The Teutonic troops invading Serbia have captured the greater part of the city of Belgrade, it is officially announced.

Germans Make Heavy Attack on Allies in Vicinity of Loos

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)

PARIS, France, Oct. 9.—Reports received here of hard fighting and much artillery activity on the west front indicate that the Germans are carrying out a heavy offensive movement in the vicinity of Loos. Violent attacks are also reported as taking place southwest of Neuville and St. Vast, but the official bulletins here say that the attacks were repulsed.

Petrograd Says German Transport in Baltic Sunk by British Submarine

(Associated Press Service by Federal Wireless)

LONDON, England, Oct. 9.—It was officially announced in Petrograd today that a German transport in the Baltic has been sunk by a British submarine.

LONDON, England, Oct. 9.—Two British steamers, the Silver Ash and the Scawby, have been sunk. It is presumed that the sinking was done by German submarines though there have been no definite statements by the officers yet.

Official German Report Tells of Progress in Many War Arenas

The following cablegram from official German sources was received early this afternoon:

"German Army Headquarters Report, Oct. 8.—In the Balkan arena the Germans continue to cross the Danube, Save and Drina rivers. All the crossings are progressing favorably. Four officers and 296 soldiers were captured southwest of Belgrade, and two machine guns and three cannon taken.

"On the west front, after the failure of the French attempts on October 5 and 6 to break through the German lines, it was quiet yesterday. In the Champagne district the French were ejected by a counter attack from a section of the trench east of the Navarin farm which still was occupied. Several prisoners and two machine guns were taken here. Artillery fire along the front increased towards evening, also isolated infantry attacks, all of which were repulsed. The German advance against the enemy's position south of St. Marie-Apy was successful, six officers and 250 soldiers being taken.

"On the east front, Gen. von Hindenburg's army repulsed Russian attacks north of Koshyany and south of Vishny Lake. Gen. von Linsingen's army advanced in attacks northwest of Czarorisk."

FOOTBALL NOTES

PITTSBURGH 47, NAVY 12.
(Associated Press by Federal Wireless)
ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 9.—The Pittsburgh University team with Coach Warner, formerly of Carlisle, at the head, triumphed over the Navy eleven here today in a most decisive defeat. The Pitt players used many of the old Carlisle formations and played the best game of any team that has been seen on the local field in years. Warner looks to have a team that will figure at the top this season. Score: Pittsburgh 47, Navy 12.
PRINCETON 3, SYRACUSE 6.
PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 9.—Rush, the new Princeton coach, had a big scare this afternoon when the Syracuse eleven played the Tigers to a standstill and kept them from crossing the goal line. The New York team showed unusual strength and Princeton won only when a goal was kicked from the field. The game was one of the best played at Princeton in many years. Score: Princeton 6, Syracuse 3.
YALE 7, LEHIGH 8.
NEW HAVEN, Oct. 9.—After losing to Virginia an last Saturday the Yale met another tartar today in the Lehigh team who gave Yale another hard fight and came within a point of tying the score. Rinkaya man have not gotten into the play as yet and the prospects for a winning team this year was not so bright after today's defeat. Lehigh used one of its famous principles. Score: Yale 7, Lehigh 8.
PENN STATE 13, PENNSYLVANIA 3.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9.—When the Boston team was defeating the Philadelphia National, the Penn State eleven was waiting over the Delaware field today. The State had the jump on the locals throughout and marched down the field for two touchdowns while the local university team was forced to score only by a kick from the field. The final score: Penn State 13, Pennsylvania 3.
